Parking near ESAT

- Immediately after the bridge over the Dijle you can turn left to enter the Arenberg domain. Keep following the road parallel to the river until past the Arenberg castle. About 50 m past the castle there is a public accessible parking. The building towering above the parking is the department of Electrical Engineering.

Because this parking is full most of the time during the day, we advise only to use this parking for our evening activities or smaller activities during the day.

- Immediately after the bridge over the Dijle the mechanical engineering department is at your right. Here there are plenty of parking possibilities at only a walking distance from ESAT. On this parking your chances are best to find a free spot. Therefore we advise you to use this parking for our bigger events during the day.
- Immediately before the bridge over the Dijle you see Auditorium Oude Molen at your left. There are some parking spaces available here also. At the back of this parking (between the trees) you can turn left and immediately right, there you can find some other possibilities to park.
